

DATE DESPRE AUTORI

FERENCZ, Iosif Vasile is a senior researcher at the Museum of Dacian and Roman Civilization in Deva. He specialises in Ancient History, being especially interested in the Second Iron Age. His presentations and studies were centred mainly on the La Tène and Dacian civilizations in Transylvania. His 2007 Doctoral Thesis at the Babeş-Bolyai University in Cluj-Napoca was published in the same year under the title: The Celts of the Middle Mureş Valley. The author is certified by the Romanian Ministry of Culture as expert archaeologist and an expert in national cultural heritage goods. The activity he carried out at the museum over more than two decades was oriented toward three main directions: archaeological research, the research, inventory, and ranking of the mobile national cultural heritage, and raising the profile of the mobile national cultural heritage. He participated in archaeological research and designed and led the investigations on sites such as Sighişoara-Wietenberg, Divici-Grad, Şeuşa-La Cărarea Morii, Alun-Piatra Roşie, Ardeu-Cetăţuie, Tărtăria-Pietroşiţa, Unip-Dealul Cetăţuica, and others. The author published, alone or collaboratively, over 100 studies, papers, and books, organised numerous exhibits, and presented the results of his work at multiple national and international conferences, symposia, colloquia, and round table discussions. He organised or co-organized 12 national and international conferences. Since 2018 he has been teaching Military Archaeology and Habitat Archaeology courses within the master's degree curriculum of the West University of Timişoara.

Orcid No: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-9510-0052>

E-mail fiosifvasile@yahoo.com

IARMULSCHI, Vasile is PhD (Chisinau, 2014), researcher at the National Museum of the History of Moldova and at the Freie Universität Berlin. He has received his bachelor's degree in prehistoric archaeology at the "Ion Creangă" Pedagogical State University in Chişinău. Dissertation in 2014 at the Institute of Cultural Heritage of the Academy of Sciences of Moldova. Author of around 40 scientific publications, including 2 monographs: Settlements of the Poienişti-Lucaşeuca Culture (Berlin 2020) and Aşezarea şi necropola de tip Poienişti-Lucaşeuca de la Boroşesti (co-autor M. Babeş) (Chişinău 2020). Research focus: Late Pre-Roman Iron Age; Early Roman Age; Poienişti-Lucaşeuca-culture; Zarubincy culture; intercultural relations.

Orcid No: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-9013-1973>

E-Mail: vasile.iarmulschi@gmail.com

MĂNDESCU Dragoş graduated from the Faculty of History of the Bucharest University in 1999. Ten years later he successfully (magna cum laude) defended his PhD thesis in history at the same university, with an approach to the Late Iron Age's chronology at Lower Danube. He is an expert archaeologist dealing mainly with the Iron Age field of study, with sustained activity in archaeological research of key-sites from both the Early (i.e. the cemeteries from Valea Stâniei and Câmpulung) and Late Iron Age (i.e. the settlement and cemetery from Zimnicea, the settlement from Cetăţeni) in Romania. As expert in mobile pre- and proto-history heritage he has substantial experience in collaborating in major national and international archeology exhibitions. He regularly participates in the most important professional meetings of archeology under the auspices of EAA, UISPP, WAC, EIA Central Europe, Thracology Congresses and Roman Limes Congresses. He is currently the director of the Heritage & Museography Department within the Argeş County Museum in Piteşti, Romania.

Orcid No: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-1175-2692>

E-mail: dragos_mandescu@yahoo.com

MARTENS, Jes (PhD,) is associate professor of the Early Iron Age at the Museum of Cultural History, Department of Archaeology since 1999. Before that he was executive officer (archaeologist) at the Swedish National Board of Antiquities (Riksantikvarieämbetet) in Lund (1996-1999) and before that he held scholarships at the University of Copenhagen (1992-1996) and the National Museum of Denmark (1990-1992). Martens finished his MA at the University of Aarhus in 1990, including a year at the University of Warsaw (1982-1983). The PhD was obtained at the University of Copenhagen in 1998. Martens has held several scholarships such as the Carlsberg foundation, Deutsche Akademische Austausch Dienst, NorFa, the Danish Research Council of the Humanities and Queen Margrethe II foundation. Martens has taught archaeology at the University of Copenhagen and the University of Oslo and has delivered guest lectures at a number of universities in Northern Europe. Martens has functioned as censor at the Universities of Copenhagen, Oslo and Tromsø. The main focus of his research is on the subjects «The Early Iron Age in Northern and Northern Central Europe» and «settlement archaeology». He has published more than 60 papers in national and international journals, books and encyclopaediae (in English, German, Italian, Polish, Danish and Norwegian) and has edited or been coeditor of five books. In addition he has presented papers at more than 50 international conferences as well as being the initiator of more than 10 such events.

Orcid No:

E-mail: jes.martens@khm.uio.no

MEYER, Michael is Dr. hab., Professor at the Free University of Berlin. Specialist in the pre-Roman and Roman Age in Barbaricum. Studied prehistory and early history, geography, European ethnology and classical archeology at the Universities of Marburg and Heidelberg and at the Institute of Archeology London. Scientific interests are especially focused in the Settlements and Battle Archeology. In the years 2011-2019 it was Speaker of the Cluster of Excellence Topoi – The Formation and Transformation of Space and Knowledge in Ancient Civilizations. He is currently the coordinator of the archaeological research project Ausgrabung der Siedlung der Poienești-Lucașeuca Kultur von Ivancea-sub Pădure (ME 1251/12-1) funded by the DFG (Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft). Author of more than 150 scientific publications, including 2 monographs: Pevestorf 19. Ein mehrperiodiger Fundplatz im Landkreis Lüchow-Dannenberg. Veröffentlichungen der urgeschichtlichen Sammlungen des Landesmuseums zu Hannover 41 (Oldenburg 1993) und Mardorf 23, Ldkr. Marburg-Biedenkopf. Archäologische Studien zur Besiedlung des deutschen Mittelgebirgsraumes in den Jahrhunderten um Christi Geburt (Rahden/Westf. 2008). He is Member of the editorial board of the journal Plural. History. Society.

Email: michael.meyer@fu-berlin.de

MUNTEANU, Octavian is director of the Archeology Interdisciplinary Research Laboratory ArheoTop, Associate Professor at History and Geography Department of Ion Creanga State Pedagogical University of Moldova, PhD in Archaeology (1996, Cluj-Napoca). Member of the Archaeological Research Centre from Moldova (from 2016 – vice president); member of the Scientific Council of the Orheiul Vechi Cultural-Natural Reserve; associate-member of the Archaeological Committee of the Moldovan Ministry of Culture; Corresponding member of the Deutsches Archäologisches Institut, Römisch-Germanische Kommission. He is Member of the editorial board of the journals Plural. History. Society. Culture and Arheologia Preventivă în Republica Moldova. His research interests are determined by the settlement archaeology and pottery study, Latène era issues in the South-Eastern Europe, especially those linked with the Germanic population in the East-Carpathian forest-steppe and their relations with the local population (contacts between Poienești-Lucașeuca – Zarubincy – Jastorf - and Przeworsk Culture circle).

Orcid No: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-9340-8002> E-mail: ocmunteanu@gmail.com

MUSTEAȚĂ, Sergiu is currently a Professor at the History and Geography Department, ‘Ion Creangă’ State Pedagogical University of Chișinău. He is the author of 8 monographs and more than 300 articles on history, archaeology, cultural heritage preservation and textbooks analysis. The most recent works are „Community Archaeology in Eastern Europe. An Example from the Republic of Moldova”. In: Jameson, John H. and Sergiu Musteata (eds), Transforming Heritage Practice in the 21st Century - Contributions from Community Archaeology. One World Archaeology Series. Springer, 2019, 45-58; „Archaeological Heritage Resource Management in Romania and the Republic of Moldova: A Comparative View”. In: Campbell S., White L., Thomas S. (eds) Competing Values in Archaeological Heritage. Springer, Cham, 2019, 45-61; Nomads and Natives beyond the Danube and the Black Sea, 700-900 CE, Amsterdam University Press, ARC Humanities Press, Leeds, 2018. He is the editor of two monograph series – ANTIM monographs and Unknown Documents and Histories (30 volumes published). Every year he delivers over 20 presentations and public lectures in various academic centres around the world. During recent years, he has been a visiting scholar and a visiting professor in many universities in the USA, Germany, Romania, Sweden, etc.

Orcid No: <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-2736-1810>

Email: sergiu_musteata@yahoo.com

RUSTOIU Aurel is a senior researcher at the Institute of Archaeology and History of Art, Romanian Academy of Sciences, Cluj-Napoca branch, Romania. He specialises in Ancient History, being especially interested in the Second Iron Age. He graduated from the faculty of History and Philosophy, —Babeș-Bolyai University of Cluj-Napoca, Romania. At the same faculty, the doctor's thesis (The bronze metallurgy in pre-Roman Dacia (2nd c. BC – 1st c. AD). Techniques, workshops and bronze artefacts, 1996) and the habilitation doctor's thesis (Ethnic and cultural identities in late Iron Age Transylvania, 2017) were defended. In 2009-2011 he is President of professional association Groupe de travail européen sur l'artisanat et les productions manufacturées dans l'Antiquité and Since 2005 co-editor of the series Ethnische und Kulturelle interferenzen im 1. Jahrtausend v. Chr. – 1. Jahrtausend n. Chr. published by the Babeș-Bolyai University of Cluj-Napoca and the Institute of Archaeology and History of Art, Cluj-Napoca. Since 2001 the author is supervisor of BA and MA dissertations, Faculty of History and Philosophy, Babeș-Bolyai University of Cluj-Napoca. The author is certified by the Romanian Ministry of Culture as expert archaeologist and an expert in national cultural heritage goods. Since 2001 the author is supervisor of BA and MA dissertations, Faculty of History and Philosophy, —Babeș-Bolyai University of Cluj-Napoca. In 2013–2017 he is co-director of —Apulum Mithraeum III Project. From 2018 to present, hi is co-director of Apulum Roman Villa Project. The author has published 9 books; has edited 5 volumes; 11 chapters in syntheses, lexicons, encyclopaedias; 3 exhibition catalogues and more than 200 studies in research journals and proceedings.

Orcid No: <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-7033-1866>

E-mail: aurelrustoiu@yahoo.com

SPÂNU, Daniel (Dr., Hab.) is an archaeologist and research fellow at the “Henri Coandă” Institute of Archeology in Bucharest since 1997. Previously, he attended and graduated the Faculty of History in Bucharest. Spânu was the beneficiary of a pre-doctoral fellowship “Fritz Thyssen Sonderprogramm zum wissenschaftlichen Wiederaufbau in Südosteuropa” offered by the “Alexander von Humboldt” Foundation at the Institute of Prehistoric Archeology in Berlin (2000-2001) and a post-doctoral fellowship offered by the same Foundation at the German Archaeological Institute and the Free University of Berlin (2009-2010). He also carried out several documentation internships in Vienna, Budapest and in several museums in Romania. Spânu defended a doctoral thesis transformed into the monograph Tezaurele dacice, (Bucharest, 2012, dedicated to the “Dacian” hoards of the late La Tène period), as well as an habilitation thesis materialized in the monograph Poienești. Necropola din secolele II-III (Cluj-Napoca, 2019, an analysis of the burial practices of the 2nd - 3rd centuries from Poienești, eastern Romania). He has participated in 45 archaeological campaigns in Romania and 10 abroad (France, Germany, Republic of Georgia) and is the author of more than 50 studies published in national or international volumes or periodicals; he presented over 80 papers at national and international scientific meetings. His scientific activity focused mainly on the archeology of the Second Iron Age on the territory of Romania and on the archeology of the “barbaric” world in the vicinity of the Dacia Province in Roman period.

Orcid No:

E-mail: hazdrik@yahoo.com

TOPAL, Denis is an archaeologist specializing in the archaeology of the early nomads of Eurasia. His research background is in the analysis of trends in the development of warfare in European cultures in the Iron Age. His expertise also includes Late Bronze Age and Early Iron Age deposits and the archaeology of burial mounds in the Pontic steppe in prehistory. D. Topal received his PhD from the Academy of Sciences of the Republic of Moldova in 2018 with the thesis “Scythian blade weaponry of 7th-4th centuries BC (South-western part of Eastern Europe)”. Since 2017, D. Topal has been working as the Head of the Documentation Department of the National Agency of Archaeology of the Republic of Moldova, since 2020 he has been working as a research fellow at the National Museum of History of the Republic of Moldova in Chişinău, and since 2022 he has been a corresponding member of the German Archaeological Institute. He has published more than 80 articles and a monograph, presented papers at more than 30 international conferences. In addition, since 2010 he is associate editor of Stratum plus journal (volume dedicated to the Iron Age).

Orcid No: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-8586-4427>

E-mail: denis.topal@gmail.com