

AUTHORS' SHORT BIOGRAPHIES / DATE DESPRE AUTORI

CHIKOVANI, Nino is Doctor of Historical Sciences, Professor, Head of the Institute of Cultural Studies, Faculty of Humanities, Ivane Javakhsvili Tbilisi State University. Research interests: perception and representation of history; politics of memory; identity-building in multicultural environments. Participated/headed a number of research and teaching projects (Shota Rustaveli National Science Foundation, UNESCO, TEMPUS, DAAD, COBERM, Volkswagen Foundation, AUF, Heinrich Boell Foundation, International Visegrad Foundation). Most recent publications: "The Mtatsminda Pantheon: a Memory Site and Symbol of Identity." Caucasus Survey, volume 9, No 3, November 2021, p. 235-249; "Georgia" (Chapter 18) in The Palgrave Handbook of Conflict and History Education in the Post-Cold-War Era. Ed. by Luigi Cajani, Simone Lässig and Maria Repoussi. Palgrave Macmillan, 2019, p. 245-258; "Tbilisi as a Center of Cross-cultural Interactions in the 19th and Early 20th Centuries" in La Montagne des Langues et des Peuples. Imbrications et Transferts dans L'Espace du Caucase. Ed. Michel Espagne, Hamlet Isaxanli et Shahin Mustafaev. Editions Demopolis, Paris, 2019, p. 351-373.

ORCID ID: 0000-0002-8294-0586.

Email: nino.chikovani@tsu.ge

GLONT, Anca is an Assistant Professor in the Department of History at the University of Dayton. Her research has looked at the interrelationship between labor and the coal industry in Transylvania, and at the definition and use of forced labor by authoritarian regimes in Hungary and Romania. Recent publications include: "Not Just Socialist Miners, but Miners of the World: Internationalism, Global Trends, and Romanian Coal Workers," in Labor History in State Socialist Europe since 1945, and, (with Maria Grecu), "Bâtir la classe: logement ouvrier et stratification sociale dans le bassin charbonnier de la Vallée du Jiu, 1860-1989" in Habiter l'usine.

ORCID ID: 0000-0001-8201-4171.

Email: aglont1@udayton.edu

KUNITŠON, Nikolai is a Lecturer of Political Science, a junior researcher, and a Ph.D. student in Politics and Governance at Tallinn University. His research explores integration issues, focusing on the formal education system and on how it reproduces inequality in society. His recent publications are: "Citizenship Educational Policy: A Case of the Russophone Minority in Estonia" (with Leif Kalev) in the peer-reviewed journal Social Sciences; a chapter on qualitative methodology in a university textbook about public policy theories and analysis (in Estonian), and the summary chapter on Estonian Integration Monitoring 2020 (with Raivo Vetik and others).

ORCID ID: 0000-0003-0347-8408.

Email: nikolai.kunitson@tlu.ee

MUSTEAȚĂ, Sergiu is a historian from the Republic of Moldova, and a professor at the History and Geography Department of the „Ion Creanga” Pedagogical State University in Chisinau and „Valahia” University in Târgoviște, Romania. He received a Ph.D. from the History Faculty of „Al. I. Cuza” University in Iași, Romania (1999). He defended his habilitation thesis at the „Ion Creanga” Pedagogical State University in Chisinau (2021). He is a former research fellow of various scholarships in the US, Hungary, Sweden, and Poland, including DAAD, the Humboldt Foundation, at Bonn, Freiburg, and Braunschweig universities, Fulbright Scholar at the University of Maryland, University of California Berkeley, and Stanford University. He is the author of 8 monographs, more than 300 scholarly publications, editor of over 30 books, and editor of two academic journals. His major research interests include East European Medieval history and archaeology, cultural heritage preservation and the analysis of history textbooks.

ORCID ID: 0000-0003-2206-9298.

Email: sergiu_musteata@yahoo.com

ROMAN, Nicoleta is a researcher at “Nicolae Iorga” Institute of History of the Romanian Academy. Her main research interests focus on social and economic history, gender and the history of women, and childhood studies in (pre)modern Romania and Southeastern Europe, in terms of goods, mobility, education and welfare policies. Member of the editorial team of the series of writings of foreign travelers (Călători străini) about the Romanian Principalities in the nineteenth century (2007-2020), published by the Romanian Academy. She participated in various national and international projects. Nicoleta Roman authored a book (Deznădăjduită muiere n-au fost ca mine. Femei, onoare și păcat în Valahia secolului al XIX-lea, Humanitas, 2016). She has coordinated three other volumes and published several articles in peer-reviewed international journals. As national coordinator for Romania within the European COST Action Women on the Move, she continues her research on women in the broader context of the European framework. At present she is working on migration, education and trade in premodern Romania and Southeastern Europe.

ORCID ID: 0000-0001-9626-6329.

Email: nicoleta.roman@gmail.com

SAARTS, Tõnis is an Associate Professor of Comparative Politics at Tallinn University. His research interests include political parties, party systems, (right-wing) populism, modern representative democracy and its challenges, democratization in Central and Eastern Europe, and politics in the Baltic States. His recent publications include: "When a Right-Wing Populist Party Inherits a Mass Party Organisation: The Case of EKRE" (with Mari-Liis Jakobson and Leif Kalev in the peer-reviewed journal Politics and Governance), "The Long-term Governmental Parties in Post-Communist Democracies (with Marleen Allemann in the peer-reviewed journal Problems of Post-Communism), and "Estonia – The Consolidation of Partisan Politics in a Small Country with Small Municipalities" (with Georg Sootla and Kersten Kattai in the Routledge Handbook of Local Elections and Voting in Europe).

ORCID ID: 0000-0002-9873-9916.

Email: tonis.saarts@tlu.ee

TSERETELI, Ivane is Doctor of History and an Associate Professor at the Institute of Cultural Studies, Faculty of Humanities, Ivane Javakhishvili Tbilisi State University (Tbilisi, Georgia). He participated/headed different research and teaching projects (Shota Rustaveli National Science Foundation, UNESCO, DAAD, Volkswagen Foundation, Heinrich Boell Foundation, International Visegrad Foundation). His main fields of research are: identity studies, memory studies, cultural trauma and issues of the post-Soviet transition. Recent publications: Trauma and Triumph in Literary Texts: Post-Independence Georgia; Religious Contradictions in Post-Soviet Georgia; "The Other or the Enemy– Perception of Ossetians by Georgians at the Early Stage of Independence" (According to the Newspaper "Sakharvelos Respublika"); Challenges of Liberalization and Democratization in Georgia: The Case of the Modern Civic Calendar of the Country; "The Problem of Interrelation of Titular Nation and Ethnic Minorities in Georgia According to the Printed Press (The Turn of the 20th Century)"

ORCID ID: 0000-0002-6327-5453.

Email: Ivane.tsereteli@tsu.ge

VETIK, Raivo is a Professor of Comparative Politics at Tallinn University. His research on politics and state policies, social processes of migration and migrant integration, has focused particularly on the issues related to the Russian-language minorities in Estonia and other countries neighboring Russia. He has edited several volumes with Amsterdam University Press (2011) and Peter Lang Press (2012), devoted to these issues. He has also served as head of the research team on the Integration Monitoring of Estonian society, commissioned by the Estonian government, since the beginning of the regular monitoring studies (2000).

ORCID ID: 0000-0003-1352-4682.

Email: rvetik@tlu.ee

ZALIETOK, Nataliia holds an academic degree of Doctor of Historical Sciences (PhD, Dr. hab. in History) and a Senior Research Associate academic rank. Currently, she is an IU-Ukraine Non-Resident Scholar (Indiana University Bloomington, United States), the Head of the Department for Archival Affairs of the Ukrainian Research Institute of Archival Affairs and Records Keeping, and a Senior Researcher at the Department of Military Historical Research within the Institute of History of Ukraine of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine. Her research focuses on British History, the History of the USSR, Women's and Gender History, and Archival Science. She is currently working on a comparative study on the policy of the British and Soviet governments regarding women's military service in World War II. Recent publications: "Women's service in the armed forces during World War II in the British and Soviet publications of 1940s," Ajalooline Ajakiri 177/178, no. 3/4 (2021): 221-251; "The Soviet and British Governments' Policies Concerning Participation of Women in Paramilitary Organizations of the Interwar Period," Ukrainskyi istorychnyi zhurnal 1 (2022): 127-136; "British and Soviet male veterans' perception of the issue of women's military service in the Second World War," Český Časopis Historický 3-4 (2022): 747-775.

ORCID ID: 0000-0002-5319-3876.

E-mail: nataliazaletok@gmail.com