

BATSIKADZE, Giorgi is a Doctor of History and Lecturer at Batumi Shota Rustaveli State University. His research focuses on the modern and contemporary history of Georgia, the Democratic Republic of Georgia (1918–1921), and Georgian social democracy, including political coexistence and party polarization in the revolutionary and post-imperial period, as well as Georgia’s eastern policy and relations with the North Caucasus. He is the author and co-author of three books and several scholarly articles.

Email: giorgibatsikadze21@gmail.com

ORCID: 0000-0002-8671-8667

FELCHER, Anastasia is a cultural historian, heritage scholar, and archivist specializing in East-Central Europe, with a particular focus on borderlands and minority histories. She received her PhD in 2016 and has been working as a Slavic Archivist at the Blinken OSA Archivum at Central European University (CEU) in Budapest since 2020. Since 2023, she has also been affiliated with the Cultural Heritage Studies Program (CHSP) at CEU in Vienna, alongside holding research fellowships across Europe.

Email: anastasia.felcher@gmail.com

ORCID: 0000-0002-4935-2846

GOGOLISHVILI, Otar is a Doctor of History and Professor at Batumi Shota Rustaveli State University. His research interests include Georgian history, Georgian legal and military traditions, Georgia’s relations with European countries from the tenth to the twentieth centuries, and the history of Georgian public opinion between 1801 and 1921. His work also examines the history of South-West Georgia, the Batumi district during the turbulent years of 1920–1921, and Ajara in the period surrounding the August 1924 events. He is the author of approximately ten monographs and more than one hundred scholarly articles.

Email: otargogolisvhili@gmail.com

ORCID: 0000-0002-5196-4155

IVASHCHUK, Antonina is Head of the Department of Advertising and Public Relations at the State University Kyiv Aviation Institute. She holds a PhD in Social Communications and specializes in journalism, advertising, and public relations. Her research focuses on strategic communication and contemporary media practices.

E-mail: antonina.ivashchuk@npp.kai.edu.ua

ORCID: 0000-0003-0209-148X

KARALIDZE, Jemal is a Doctor of History and Professor at Batumi Shota Rustaveli State University. His research focuses on Georgian history, the peoples of the North Caucasus, and geopolitics, with particular attention to Russian imperial geopolitics in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, Georgian–North Caucasian relations, and political and administrative developments in Batumi, including the city’s system of self-government between 1888 and 1914. He is the author and co-author of several monographs and dozens of scholarly articles.

Email: jemal.karalidze@bsu.edu.ge

ORCID: 0000-0002-7179-0455

KRYPCHUK, Mykola is Professor in the Department of Show Directing at Kyiv National University of Culture and Arts. He holds a doctoral degree in Art Studies, specializing in theatre and performance. His work focuses on directing, theatrical practice, and contemporary performing arts.

E-mail: kripchuk@gmail.com

ORCID: 0000-0002-1255-7135

LACHKO, Olga is Head of the Department of Directing at Kharkiv State Academy of Culture. She holds a PhD in Art History. Her research focuses on directing, theatre studies, and the history of the performing arts.

E-mail: ef-festival@ukr.net

ORCID: 0000-0001-8141-1132

MUDROV, Sergei A. is a researcher based in Brest, Belarus. He holds a PhD from the University of Salford (UK) and has professional experience in print media, NGOs, academia, and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP). He is the author of four books and more than fifty articles published in English, Russian, Polish, and Belarusian. His recent work includes “Churches in the 2020 Elections and Political Protests in Belarus” (Journal of Contemporary Religion, 2024) and “European Union and the Churches” (in The Cambridge History of the European Union, 2023).

Email: s.mudrov@gmail.com

ORCID: 0000-0003-3405-8879

MUSTEAȚĂ, Sergiu is a historian and Professor at Valahia University of Târgoviște, Romania. He earned his PhD in History from Alexandru Ioan Cuza University in Iași in 1999, followed by habilitations at Ovidius University of Constanța (2017) and Ion Creangă State Pedagogical University of Chișinău (2021). He has been a research fellow supported by numerous international programs, including Fulbright fellowships at the University of Maryland, the University of California, Berkeley, and Stanford University; DAAD and Humboldt fellowships in Germany (Bonn, Freiburg, and Braunschweig); an OSI fellowship at Central European University in Hungary; a Swedish Institute fellowship at Campus Gotland, Uppsala University; and the Thesaurus Poloniae Fellowship at the International Cultural Centre in Kraków, Poland. He is the author of ten monographs and more than 300 scholarly publications, and the editor of over 30 books and two academic journals. His main research interests include the history of Eastern Europe, cultural heritage preservation, and the analysis of history textbooks.

E-mail: sergiu.musteata@valahia.ro

ORCID: 0000-0003-2206-9298

PASENKO, Inha is Head of the Department of Scientific Work and Editorial and Publishing Activities at the Kyiv Municipal Academy of Circus and Performing Arts. She coordinates the Academy's research projects and scholarly publications. Her work focuses on academic development and the dissemination of knowledge in the performing arts.

E-mail: i.pasenko@kmaecm.edu.ua

ORCID: 0009-0008-2063-8606

NEGURĂ, Petru is a researcher at the Institute of Legal, Political, and Sociological Research at Moldova State University (since 2017) and, since May 2025, a lecturer in Southeast European Studies at the University of Regensburg. He was a Humboldt Fellow (2020–2023) at the Leibniz Institute for East and Southeast European Studies (IOS) in Regensburg, later continuing there as a researcher and subsequently as a fellow at the Aleksanteri Institute in Helsinki. In 2025, he served as a social science expert for the EU-funded VCA4D project in Moldova. He holds a PhD in Sociology from the École des Hautes Études en Sciences Sociales (EHESS) in Paris and has been Associate Professor at the Free International University of Moldova, as well as a visiting scholar at EHESS Paris and the University of Bucharest. His research has been supported by fellowships from the Fulbright Program (UC Berkeley), the New Europe College, the Gerda Henkel Foundation, and the Open Society Foundations. He currently directs the PLURAL Forum for Interdisciplinary Studies in Chişinău and co-edits Plural: History, Culture, Society, a Scopus-indexed journal. His work focuses on nation-building, education, public perceptions of war and peace, and social welfare and poverty in Eastern Europe and the former USSR.

Email: petru.negura@sti.usm.md

ORCID: 0000-0001-5337-0767

POLOZHENTSEVA, Kateryna is Associate Professor in the Department of Personnel Management, Labor Economics, and Public Administration at the Interregional Academy of Personnel Management. She holds the degree of Candidate of Economic Sciences. Her research and teaching focus on labor economics, human resource management, and public administration.

E-mail: ekaterina.impact@gmail.com

ORCID: 0000-0002-9539-5628

VORONOVICI, Alexandr is Teaching Fellow in Modern Eastern European History at the University of Warwick and Research Fellow at the University of Manchester. He is a member of the UK Arts and Humanities Research Council-funded project “(Mis)translating Deceit: Disinformation as a Translingual Discursive Dynamic.” He received his PhD in History from Central European University in 2016. His research focuses on the history of contested borderlands in Eastern Europe, irredentism and separatism, memory politics, and the history of international propaganda. His work has appeared in Ethnopolitics, Harvard Misinformation Review, Osteuropa, and Problems of Post-Communism.

Email: alex.voronovici@gmail.com

ORCID: 0000-0003-4672-711X