

AUTHORS' SHORT BIOGRAPHIES / DATE DESPRE AUTORI

BĂLAN, Emanuela Ana-Maria is a PhD candidate at the National University of Political Studies and Public Administration (SNSPA), Bucharest, Romania, and a member of the Centre for the Research of Responsible Organisations within its Faculty of Management. Her scholarly interests include museum management, employee engagement, and museums' social role. She also works as a public relations specialist, combining academic research with professional experience in strategic communication. Her selected publications include "Rethinking the Museum's Social Role from Within: A Bibliometric Analysis of Employee Engagement, Leadership, and Organizational Performance" (2026) and "Enhancing Engagement with Museums through Digital Marketing Strategies" (co-authored, 2025).

E-mail: emanuelaanamaria.balan@gmail.com

ORCID: 0009-0003-1869-5090

COADĂ, Ludmila holds a PhD in History and is an Associate Professor in the Department of International Relations, Political Science and Journalism at the Free International University of Moldova (ULIM), Chişinău. She is a former Dean of ULIM's Faculty of History and International Relations. Her scholarly interests include Bessarabian history and zemstvo institutions, Soviet and post-Soviet history and politics, democratization, and the Republic of Moldova's relations with the European Union. Her publications include The Bessarabian Zemstvo: Historical and Legal Aspects (2009), "Public Opinion and the Republic of Moldova's European Orientation: Dynamics and Trends" (2023), and "Democratization in Post-Soviet Eurasia: Achievements, Challenges and Failures" (2024).

E-mail: l_coadă@yahoo.com

ORCID: 0000-0002-7360-2267

CORMAN, Galina holds a PhD in History and is a Lecturer in the Faculty of History and Philosophy at Moldova State University, Chişinău, Republic of Moldova. Her scholarly interests include nineteenth- and twentieth-century Eastern European history, travel literature, representations of the Other in colonial contexts, historical mentalities, and cultural memory. She is the author of Das Bessarabien-Bild in der zeitgenössischen russischen Reiseliteratur 1812–1918 (The Image of Bessarabia in Contemporary Russian Travel Literature, 1812–1918; 2015). She has participated in international research projects on Holocaust memory, the mapping of ghettos in Grodno, Chernivtsi, and Chişinău, and intercultural relations involving Bessarabian Germans.

E-mail: galina.corman@usm.md

DOLGHI, Adrian is a historian and Senior Researcher at the National Museum of Ethnography and Natural History in Chişinău, Republic of Moldova. His scholarly interests include the history of Soviet Moldova, everyday life, childhood, Sovietization, history education, and historical and visual anthropology. His selected publications include Childhood in Soviet Moldova (1924–1961): A Historical-Anthropological Investigation of Childhood on the Periphery of the Empire (2022), Everyday Life in the Moldavian SSR (1944–1961): Studies and Documents (editor, 2024), and Everyday Life in the Moldavian SSR (1944–1961): A Study of History and Visual Anthropology (2025).

E-mail: addolghi@gmail.com

ORCID: 0000-0001-6770-6890

GASNAȘ, Ala holds a PhD and is an Associate Professor in the Department of Informatics and Information Technologies, Faculty of Physics, Mathematics and Information Technologies, “Ion Creangă” State Pedagogical University of Chișinău, Republic of Moldova. Her scholarly interests include computer science education, digital technologies, artificial intelligence, STEM/STEAM education, media literacy, and technological approaches to detecting disinformation. Her selected publications include “Disinformation as a National Complex Phenomenon: Societal and Informatics Approaches” (2025), “Mechanisms of Disinformation and Their Impact on the Citizens of the Republic of Moldova” (2026), and “Identifying Disinformation Narratives: A Systemic Approach” (2026).

E-mail: gasnas.ala@upsc.md

ORCID: 0000-0002-7174-7027

GLOBA, Angela holds a PhD in Pedagogical Sciences. She is an Associate Professor in the Department of Informatics and Information Technologies, Faculty of Physics, Mathematics and Information Technologies, “Ion Creangă” State Pedagogical University of Chișinău, Republic of Moldova. Her scholarly interests include programming, computational geometry, computer science education, integrating information and communication technologies into teaching and research, STEM/STEAM education, e-learning, and artificial intelligence. She has undertaken academic mobility and research placements in Italy, Romania, and Bulgaria. Her recent co-authored publications include “Disinformation as a National Complex Phenomenon: Societal and Informatics Approaches” (2025) and “Identifying Disinformation Narratives: A Systemic Approach” (2026).

E-mail: globa.angela@upsc.md

ORCID: 0000-0002-2653-0320

MUSTEATĂ, Sergiu is a historian and Professor at Valahia University of Târgoviște, Romania. He earned his PhD in History from “Alexandru Ioan Cuza” University of Iași in 1999 and completed habilitations at Ovidius University of Constanța (2017) and “Ion Creangă” State Pedagogical University of Chișinău (2021). His scholarly interests include Eastern European history, archaeology, cultural heritage preservation, and analysis of history textbooks. He has held research fellowships supported by the Fulbright, DAAD, Humboldt, Open Society Institute, Swedish Institute, and Thesaurus Poloniae programmes, with research stays in the United States, Germany, Hungary, Sweden, and Poland. He has authored ten monographs and more than 300 scholarly publications, edited over 30 books, and served as editor of two academic journals.

E-mail: sergiu.musteata@valahia.ro

ORCID: 0000-0003-2206-9298

NOROC, Larisa is an Associate Professor and Head of the Department of History and Social Sciences, Faculty of Philology and History, “Ion Creangă” State Pedagogical University of Chişinău, Republic of Moldova. Her scholarly interests include the cultural history of interwar Bessarabia, Romanian history, political science, and cultural heritage. Her selected publications include The Cultural Revival of Bessarabia within Greater Romania (1918–1940) (2025) and “Ion Costin: A Unifier of the Country and Mayor of Chişinău” (co-authored with Serafim Isac, 2024).

E-mail: noroc.larisa@upsc.md

ORCID: 0000-0002-6438-9567

NOSATÎL, Anatolie is Minister of Defence of the Republic of Moldova and a PhD candidate in History at Moldova State University, Chişinău. His scholarly interests include everyday life in the Moldavian SSR during the 1970s and the first half of the 1980s, memory politics, Soviet propaganda, defence, and international security. His selected publications include “Military Aspects of Everyday Life in the Moldavian SSR (1970s–1980s)” (2024).

E-mail: anatolienosatii72@gmail.com

ORCID: 0000-0002-3070-7141

SALLANZ, Josef is a DAAD Lecturer at “Ion Creangă” State Pedagogical University of Chişinău, Republic of Moldova. His scholarly interests include the history and human geography of Bessarabia, Dobruja, and the Banat; ethnic minorities; cultural policies; border regions; and post-1989 transformations in Southeastern Europe. His selected publications include Dobruja: German Settlers between the Danube and the Black Sea (Romanian edition, 2025), Regional and Cultural Studies of German-Speaking Countries (co-authored with Victor Chiseliov, 2025), and “Memory Literature in German Lessons at the University: Case Study of Bessarabian Germans” (2024).

E-mail: josef.sallanz@daad-lektorat.de

ORCID: 0000-0001-8004-8116

SAVA, Lucia holds a PhD in History. She is an Associate Professor in the Department of History and Social Sciences, Faculty of Philology and History, “Ion Creangă” State Pedagogical University of Chişinău, Republic of Moldova. Her scholarly interests include modern and contemporary history, everyday life and mentalities, cultural history, historical anthropology, and intercultural education. She has undertaken research fellowships and participated in academic projects in Romania, France, and Poland. Her publications include Everyday Life in Chişinău at the Beginning of the Twentieth Century (1900–1918) (2010) and “Beyond Stereotypes: Education for Diversity as a Pillar of Social Cohesion in the Republic of Moldova” (2025).

E-mail: sava.lucia@upsc.md

ORCID: 0000-0001-5295-2343

SAVIȚCHI, Corina is a Teaching Assistant in the Department of History and Social Sciences, Faculty of Philology and History, and a PhD student in History at “Ion Creangă” State Pedagogical University of Chişinău, Republic of Moldova. Her scholarly interests include the history of Soviet Moldova, Soviet propaganda, ideological manipulation, and Soviet–Romanian relations. Her selected publications include “Propaganda Techniques in the USSR: Essence and Characteristics” (2024) and “Political Agitation as an Element of Soviet Propaganda in the Moldavian SSR (1953–1956)” (2024).

E-mail: savitchi.corina@upsc.md

ORCID: 0000-0002-7232-4878

URSU, Valentina is an Associate Professor in the Department of History and Social Sciences, Faculty of Philology and History, “Ion Creangă” State Pedagogical University of Chişinău, Republic of Moldova. She also serves as Acting Director of the Doctoral School of Humanities, Exact Sciences and Arts. Her scholarly interests include the cultural history of Soviet Moldova, cultural policies, heritage education, intercultural education, and the history and culture of ethnic communities. Her selected publications include Cultural Heritage in the Education System of the Republic of Moldova (1991–2025) (2026) and “History and Culture of Ethnic Communities in School and University Programmes: Realities and Perspectives” (2023).

E-mail: ursu.valentina@upsc.md

ORCID: 0000-0002-5711-8726

ZBUCHEA, Alexandra is a Professor and Vice-Dean of the Faculty of Management at the National University of Political Studies and Public Administration (SNSPA), Bucharest, Romania. Her scholarly interests include museum management, museum audiences and visitor behaviour, museum education, cultural participation, and relations between museums and their communities. Her work combines academic research with practical engagement in the museum sector, particularly in audience research and public engagement. She has held Fulbright research awards at New York University and Columbia University. Her selected publications include “Enhancing Engagement with Museums through Phygital Marketing Strategies” (co-authored with Monica Bira and Emanuela Ana-Maria Bălan, 2025).

E-mail: alexandra.zbucnea@facultateademangement.ro

ORCID: 0000-0002-5341-7622